Oasis Craft – 10th September This week – Foodie Fun!

Tempting treats made all the more appealing
as art on a plate!

Fruity Palms

Sliced banana, thin slices of orange and kiwi pieces make a lovely pair of palms! Cut the fruit up and help your little one put them together to create this pretty – and healthy! – dish.

Bananas In The Sky

This time a sliced banana is arranged to make the shape of an aeroplane and accents are added using cut up strawberries. I love the fluffy cottage cheese cloud! What could you use to add birds in the sky? A dark-coloured plate is always best to show off the design.

Dinosaur Delight

This cheeky chap is simpler to put together than he looks! His body is a small piece of bread with sliced bananas on top and his long neck and tail are the rest of the banana. A piece of crust and sliced kiwis make the palm tree in the background. You could get creative and cut out grass from a green pepper! The great thing about food art is that you are only limited by your imagination!

A great way for little ones to enjoy their veggies is with a tasty dip. It's made fun as well as healthy when baby carrots or carrot slices make sunflower petals and a celery stick is the stalk!

Sunflower Snack

Butterfly Bites

Tomato slice wings, cucumber bodies and sweetcorn eyes! These yummy butterflies are easy to put together and then yummy to eat!

HAVE FUN!!
